

Bringing Out the Best in Each Other for Fun and Pleasure

Join us for a day of fun, laughter and transformation as we learn to bring out the best in our relationships with the opposite sex

Men: What keeps you from winning with women?

Women: What keeps you from feeling really loved by men?

Learn the answers to these questions, and what to do about it.

Del Mar, CA

Saturday, June 5, 2010

$149 per person

Intimate setting - Only 15 Spaces Available

TO REGISTER:

AllenCounselingandEducation.com

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

openinghearts@earthlink.net

Kamala Allen, Ph.D., MFT and Openinghearts Seminars offers counseling and education in relationship and sexuality for women, men and couples. She has 28 years experience as a licensed psychotherapist and relationship coach, as well as lifelong learning in perennial wisdom traditions, including energetic and intuitive healing, sacred sexuality and conscious embodiment. Her goal is to create more love, intimacy and fulfillment in your life.

Curtis Kastner has dedicated his life to answering the following conundrum for men: "How do I fulfill my highest purpose on the planet while having the woman in my life feel safe and loved from moment to moment?" His keen sense of observation, intuition and awareness of men/women dynamics draws from 8 years of intense research and personal evolution. In March 2010, he successfully completed PAX Mastery and Leadership, an intense 10-month program teaching distinctions about partnerships between men and women (UnderstandMen.com). He is also on a team bringing PAX's unique and effective distinctions to the workplace in 2011. He will be presenting his own material in the workshop.

